

SAI SUN SHINE

JAB's Biggest Social Project

Our Association has the mandate to do, amongst other things, community and socially responsible activities. It all started when during the past three AGMs, a couple of our senior members of our association had been demanding that we have a social project. Finally, we woke up from our slumber and evaluated many ideas for social projects. Many needy organizations approached us to appeal for our funds. After a couple of months of deliberations, we finally zeroed in on Sai Vrindavan.

The NGO SAI VRINDAVAN was founded by Sri Ramprasad and Nagavenamma in 1988 with a commitment to serve the poor, the needy, the aged and the disabled. The 2.50 acre facility is located almost 25kms away from Bangalore at Tavarakere on Magadi Road. They started the Residential School SAIVIDHYALAYA for the specially enabled children with speech and hearing issues and has a strength of 150. The other main ventures of the ashram are SAI KRUPA - a home for the mentally challenged, which has 40 inmates and SAI SNEHADHAMA, the Home for the elderly accommodating 108 members. The government gives a hand by extending treatment facilities and medicines to the inmates.

When they started Sai Vrindavan, their focus was only educating poor Deaf and Dumb children. However, as time went by, people started getting destitute senior citizens and Mentally challenged Senior citizens to Sai Vrindavan. Mr. Ramprasad never shut the door on anyone.

Good Samaritans built many blocks for them – the Children’s hostels, the school block and the senior citizen’s block. However, Sai Krupa – a home for the Mentally challenged senior citizens was in shambles. It was actually a make shift cowshed which was in a deplorable condition. Water would seep in during rains and the conditions were very inhuman. It was heart rendering to see these people living in such squalor and due to their mental condition, they were not even in a position to express their anguish. The Board felt that this was a project worthy of our funds. We asked them to make a presentation to the General Body at the forthcoming AGM.

At the AGM, the NGO was represented by two of their trustees Mr. P J Ashok Kumar and Mr. Babu Venkatesh. They made a presentation to the entire general body. The original plan was a single storied building with separate ladies and gents dormitories along with toilets and bathrooms. The built up area would be about 2150 sft. The budget was Rs. 15 Lakhs. JAB had a budget of Rs.10 lakhs from its coffers. We appealed to the General Body for the remaining Rs.5 lakhs. We got a tremendous response from the members who magnanimously agreed to donate the rest.

Work started immediately. As the work progressed, there was an escalation in material costs. The original idea was to build the ground floor and leave the terrace open. We later decided to enclose the upstairs and put a sheet roof with windows. By doing this, we would be able to use a whole floor for vocational training. The building was aptly named "SAI SUNSHINE" and finally completed and inaugurated on Jan 29th, 2012. What was started as a Rs.15 lakhs project finished at Rs.32.60 lakhs. JAB contributed Rs.10 lakhs and the rest from member contributions.

The inauguration was very enthusiastically attended by the members of the Association. Buses were arranged to and fro for the convenience of the members. Sri. Vasudeva Murthy, retired judge and ex-vigilant officer, Lokayukta inaugurated the premises. Our biggest contributors of Rs.5 lakhs and Rs.2.50 lakhs came forward with their contributions on the day of the inauguration – after seeing the facility. There was also a tree planting activity followed by lunch. To end it all, a spectacular cultural show was put up by the deaf and dumb students of the ashram which left the audience mesmerized. In totality the project was a grand success and has set a benchmark for further social projects and initiatives not only by the JAB but also other associations as well.

"SAI ANNADANA"

One of the formidable challenges in running such a set up is the high cost of food expenses. To tackle this, Sai Vrindavan has initiated a unique scheme called SAI ANNADANA, which offers its affluent well-wishers a unique opportunity of Annadana, or donation of food which is hailed as the highest form of DANA or contribution by Gods and humans alike. Sai Annadana gives you an opportunity to celebrate the special days of your family members, like birthdays and anniversaries through Annadana, through a contribution of Rs. 6000. This meets the entire food expense of the ashram for a single day. The name of the Sai Annadana beneficiary is mentioned at the time of pooja on the relevant day, with Aarathi. And no doubt the the inmates of the Ashram who are like god's own children, bless the donors for their great gesture-which is more than any material gift to the person celebrating his birthday or anniversary.
